RE: U.S. Official and private assistance to Israel

CONFIDENTIAL

U.S. OFFICIAL AND PRIVATE ASSISTANCE TO ISRAEL

Total official U.S. assistance to Israel has been running at the $1.8 billion level for the three years FY 1977 - 1979. This equates to roughly $5 million per day or $500 per capita of Israel's population on an annual basis.

Private, or non-official, U.S. assistance to Israel is more difficult to calculate, but it may be on the order of $2 million per day. This includes the roughly $500 million in institutional transfers (primarily through the UJA) and some $330 million in Israel Bond sales. It is not possible to identify precisely how much of this $850 million total comes from the U.S., but it is believed that the majority is of American origin, making a $2 million per day estimate a fair ballpark figure.

With respect to military assistance, in the FY 1979 budget, Israel will receive:

- 48% of all FMS funding;
- 97% of all grant FMS;
- 43% of all Security Assistance (FMS, MAP, Supporting Assistance) (the comparable figure for Egypt is 18%).

MEMORANDUM FOR:

THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

THOMAS L. FARMER TLF

SUBJECT:

Summary of your August 15 Meeting With the IOB

This memorandum responds to your request at our August 15 meeting for a written summary of the principal categories of information and the degree of access to sensitive data which the Board considers essential in order to perform effectively the functions you have assigned to it.

Sensitive Collection Operations

Board access in this area includes both substantive information on specific activities and the authorization to examine the process by which projects are initiated, evaluated and approved.

We do not require the identities of individual sources. However, we believe it is necessary for us to receive on a regular basis detailed briefings on individual operations, identified by country and functional category of target so that the Board can have a concrete and sophisticated understanding of the kinds of operations that are being run and the considerations that were weighed in the review process.

Not only is this important in order to provide the Board sufficient background familiarity against which to evaluate specific operations from the standpoint of legality or propriety, but also for the purpose of judging whether the intelligence agencies have received proper authorization for ongoing collection activities, and whether activities treated as "sensitive collection" are in fact "covert actions" requiring compliance with Hughes-Ryan.

Opinions of the Attorney General

Section 3-304 of Executive Order 12036 provides for the Attorney General to "inform the IOB of legal opinions affecting the operations of the Intelligence Community:".

By memorandum to you of May 12, 1978, a copy of which is attached, we requested your concurrence for access to legal opinions issued to you and your Assistant for National Security Affairs, and outlined several examples of why such opinions are important to our work. On June 30, 1978, the Attorney General advised you by memorandum that "My policy on disclosure of such opinions to the IOB is to encourage such disclosure" and that "as President, you can appropriately waive that privilege (of confidentiality) not only for yourself but for all Executive Branch officials." At the same time, he said that "Given the differing views that may exist within the intelligence agencies, I suggest that decisions on providing opinions to the IOB be made on a case-by-case basis rather than by adopting a blanket waiver of confidentiality. "

During the past few days, the Attorney General has informed me that he has given further thought to the matter, and believes that for the Board to serve you adequately it needs all opinions from all agencies. Therefore, he has decided to grant a blanket release to the Board of all legal opinions issued to him or subordinate agencies of the Department of Justice such as the FBI, and hopes that this action would serve as an example for other intelligence agencies. We also understand from Deputy Secretary Christopher that the Department of State has no objection to a blanket waiver of confidentiality for all Justice Department opinions on intelligence matters issued to the Department of State.

*AG will give you a summary of opinions
to me.
You can request individual legal opinions.
If objection,
you appeal
to me*

Furthermore, we want to suggest that as your confidential advisers and members of the White House Office it is appropriate for us to be aware of legal advice on intelligence matters which you or other members of your staff have received from the Attorney General. It would appear peculiar, in our view, to be forced to bargain on a case-by-case basis in an effort to learn of legal opinions from your Attorney General in the limited area in which we are serving as your staff.

We request, therefore, that you grant to the IOB a general waiver of confidentiality for all legal opinions issued by the Department of Justice with respect to intelligence matters, including opinions to you and your National Security Adviser.

Guidelines for Reporting Abuses to Congress

You noted on a Board memorandum of May 25, 1978 a preference for deferring agency reports of intelligence abuses until you had been able to review the matter after benefit of IOB staffing. However, you also indicated a willingness to permit the Director of Central Intelligence or the Attorney General to come to you directly if they felt circumstances required immediate reporting to Congress.

Draft guidelines implementing either alternative were submitted by the Board as part of its memorandum. We understand that a final version has been submitted to you by your Counsel.

General Comments

One concept of oversight would have the Board function essentially as a "pressure valve," to be activated only when necessary upon the surfacing of an intelligence abuse. Under this formulation, the Board would have a nominal need for sensitive data, and would have little or no requirement for access to ongoing operations on a continuing basis. Such a formulation does not square with our understanding of your desire for Executive oversight, although it may partially explain the resistance by the NSC and some intelligence agencies which the Board has met in acquiring data and in establishing its need to know. The Board's primary role, which you have forcefully emphasized in meetings with the members, is to forewarn you of possible abuses so that potential wrongdoing may be avoided. A secondary, albeit important, role is to alert you to abuses which we believe exist, in sufficient time for you to take the initiative in implementing corrective measures.

We are mindful of your concern for safeguarding national security information and agree fully that access to such material should be determined on a strict basis of need to know. In our view, the Board's "need to know" details of sensitive collection activities, and to have direct access to legal opinions regarding intelligence activities, derives entirely from the fact that if our judgment on propriety and legality is to be useful to you, it must be not only independent but also well informed.

The Board, consisting of three part-time and a single full-time professional staff person, is simply not equipped to struggle with intelligence agencies or the NSC on a case-by-case basis to justify its need to know. Unless the agencies are required by you to be forthcoming with respect to furnishing the Board with the kinds of information described above, the Board cannot perform adequately the functions assigned to it in the Executive Order and which you have amplified in our meetings with you.

The Board is not in the operational chain of approval for intelligence operations or production, and is therefore sometimes viewed by those directly in the process as a "second guesser" of officials whose responsibility is to initiate or conduct intelligence operations. A certain level of reluctance to share information with the Board is to be expected since its recommendation to you may result in your decision to terminate or modify some approved activity. Since the Board's only function is to provide you with a judgment independent of the initiating agencies such as the NSC, or the operating agencies such as the CIA and the FBI, the potential value of the Board's advice to you should be the factor which determines the Board's right to access to classified information.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

THOMAS L. FARMER TLF
CHAIRMAN

SUBJECT:

Legal Opinions Affecting Intelligence Operations

Section 3-304 of Executive Order 12036 provides for the Attorney General to make available to the Intelligence Oversight Board legal opinions "affecting the operations of the Intelligence Community." Pursuant to this provision, the Attorney General is providing us with various opinions. However, some of the Attorney General's opinions concerning intelligence matters have been prepared expressly for you or your Assistant for National Security Affairs. The Justice Department and the IOB are in agreement that legal opinions dealing with intelligence operations prepared for you or for your Assistant for National Security Affairs do come within Section 3-304. However, the Department thinks that your specific authorization should be sought for them and this letter is for that purpose.

Senator Gore, Governor Scranton and I view Section 3-304 as designed to ensure that the IOB is aware of all legal opinions affecting the Intelligence Community. We believe that it is necessary for the proper performance of our function under the Executive Order to review intelligence activities raising questions of legality, as well as the intended scope of authorization or oversight procedures.

For example, the Board is reviewing the electronic surveillance and physical search activities authorized by PD-19 and by your February 3, 1977 memorandum to the Attorney General. Those documents, in turn, refer to the Attorney General's legal memoranda to you detailing the assumptions under which such activities were authorized and the intended scope which was approved. Those opinions are necessary background for the Board's understanding national security, electronic surveillance and physical search practices in effect during this Administration, including those whose legality or propriety have recently been questioned in the press.

Other examples include an opinion provided your Assistant for National Security Affairs concerning legality under international law of certain special Navy intelligence collection operations, and an opinion provided last fall during the preparation of Executive Order 12036 concerning the constitutional dimensions of your reporting obligations to Congress on certain aspects of intelligence activities.

Therefore, the Board requests that you authorize the Attorney General to make available for our review opinions furnished to you or to your Assistant for National Security Affairs about the legality of intelligence activities or of review and oversight procedures. A draft letter to the Attorney General is attached.

The Department of Justice has also raised the question of whether it may provide the IOB with other specific opinions it has rendered despite its client relationship with departments or agencies for whom the opinions were prepared. The Department of Justice has indicated it would have no problem making these opinions available to us as well, but suggests the desirability of a general Presidential instruction indicating that such "client relationships" do not constitute an exemption from the coverage of Section 3-304. The attached draft letter also covers this point.

Southern Burial Vault Co., has always manufactured, sold and installed concrete burial vaults as well as manufacturing. It also sold monuments and slabs for memorials in cemeteries. Stone and bronze monuments and plaques were also used for many of these memorials. I have a broad knowledge of all types of monuments...
the care and cleaning of same, as well as required foundations, erection and repairs.

This having been my life long interest and means of a successful living, enabled me to retire at the early age of 54 years, makes me well qualified to serve on the National Monument Commission. I have the expertise and the time to do a good job.

SUBJECT: STATUS REPORT OF DoD AUTHORIZATION BILL

Our task force has mobilized the full resources of the White House and DoD to assure that your veto will be sustained. We are very encouraged by initial reports.

A total of 165 House members were contacted yesterday by the Vice President, Harold, Cy, Zbig, Frank and others. Of these, 113 indicated flatly they will vote to sustain (144 votes are needed to sustain). 21 more indicated they will likely do so. Only 9 declared they will either certainly or probably vote to override, and the balance is undecided.

We have been calling first those members who, on the basis of past votes, are most likely to be with you, so these figures do not reflect a representative cross-section of the House. We assume from past votes there is a hard-core of 161 members firmly committed to the carrier, and that leaves 109 members who are potential votes for sustaining. We are contacting them today.

While our primary efforts are focused on the House, we are not ignoring the Senate. The general mood there is one of resignation: they assume you will be upheld in the House and are grumbling about having to rework the bill. Nonetheless, we are working with Alan Cranston to get an accurate head count.

The House agreed yesterday by unanimous consent to dispose of the matter on September 7, the second day they're back from the recess.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: RICHARD MOE
SUBJECT: STATUS REPORT OF DoD AUTHORIZATION BILL

The important thing now is to build on the momentum you have generated and keep up the pressure throughout the two-week recess. To this end we will do the following:

- Schedule White House briefings by the Vice President, Harold, Zbig and others for House staff members as well as private groups and individuals who can be enlisted to help.
- Schedule radio and TV interviews with top Defense officials targeted to media markets which include the districts of targeted congressmen. (There will be a special effort to emphasize the pro-defense element of your veto throughout the South so as to protect your political base.)
- The Vice President will make at least five calls a day to undecided House members. Harold and others will do the same. Your willingness to make some calls while on vacation will be enormously helpful.
- Jerry is coordinating an effort to enlist the cabinet and other administration officials in a sustained media campaign to keep our story out during the recess.
- The DNC is providing all Democratic congressional candidates with materials and asking them to defend your decision.
- Tim Kraft will be contacting key political leaders and asking for their help with targeted members.

In summary, we are very encouraged about the prospects of sustaining the veto but at the same time we are determined to leave nothing to chance. We will do everything possible to maintain our momentum during the next two weeks and will keep you informed of developments.

TO: Senator John C. Culver (D-Iowa)

DATE: Friday, August 18, 1978

RECOMMENDED BY: Frank Moore F.M. Moore and Anne Wexler

PURPOSE: To enlist Senator Culver's help in moving LIPW legislation in the Senate.

BACKGROUND: The Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works may mark-up LIPW on Wednesday, August 23. As you know, both Senators Randolph and Burdick have been reluctant to move on this until they felt sufficient pressure and could count the votes. Senator Moynihan's active involvement and new activity by the Governors and Mayors have helped persuade them to go ahead with the subcommittee on Tuesday. Senator Culver has been generally supportive but has not made any strong efforts to push the bill through Committee. (Iowa will receive $5.2 million under LIPW). Because the House bill as reported earlier this week is far over budget ($6 billion for two years versus our recommended $1 billion per year) and two-thirds hard public works, it is imperative that we get a good bill out of the Senate. Senator Culver can help.

Culver

DISCUSSION:

1. Thank you for your support of LIPW. This is one of the most important components of the Urban Policy.
2. Please push Senators Randolph and Burdick to schedule a mark-up sometime before Labor Day.

ADMINISTRATIVELY CONFIDENTIAL

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

8/18/78

Mr. President:

Eizenstat, Schultze, Bosworth and Congressional Liaison concur with McIntyre.

Eizenstat points out that Option 1 leaves Federal pay 3% behind private pay. Thus, for FY 80, if comparability is not to be avoided for a second year in a row, there would have to be an increase larger than the 6.5% increase which is now the FY 80 target. Despite these problems, Option 1 is best in light of our repeated emphasis on the 5.5% cap as a symbol of our anti-inflation effort. Other options would make the Administration appear fuzzy and indecisive on this critical issue.

Schultze/Bosworth: The alternatives to the 5.5% increase "would be viewed as gimmicks to justify abandoning a prior decision. That decision received considerable public support and a modification would strengthen doubts about the Administration's commitment to the anti-inflation effort."

FROM:

JIM MCINTYRE

Jim.

SUBJECT:

Implementing the Federal White Collar Civilian and Military Pay Raise

The purpose of this memorandum is to seek your decision on the method to be used in implementing the 5.5 percent limitation on Federal civilian and military pay increases. The first three options were discussed in my memorandum to you of August 15, 1978 (copy attached). The fourth option was proposed by the Advisory Committee on Federal Pay and explained in the report they presented to you on August 16, 1978. The increases for each option are set forth in the attached table.

In summary, the four options are:

- (1) Give a 5.5 percent increase in all salaries extending throughout the year. In accordance with the law, the increase would be effective beginning with the first pay period after October 1, 1978.
- (2) Give the comparability increases but delay implementing them until mid-February. This delay means that the FY 79 cost of the increase will be the same as a 5.5 percent increase implemented at the beginning of the fiscal year. The increases would range from 6.15 percent at the bottom of the schedule to 13.27 percent at GS-15, and on an annualized basis average 8.4 percent.
- (3) Give the comparability increases up through grade GS-9, then taper the comparability increases down to a maximum of 7.5 percent, and delay these increases until just before Christmas to equal the FY 79 cost of a 5.5 percent year long increase. The increases would range from 6.15 percent to 7.5 percent and on an annualized basis average 7.0 percent.

- (4) As the Advisory Committee recommended, give the 5.5 percent increase to each grade plus 1/2 the difference between 5.5 percent and the full comparability increases. Delay the increase to just before Christmas to equal the FY 79 cost of a 5.5 percent year long increase. These increases would range from 5.83 percent to 9.38 percent at GS-15, and on an annualized basis, average 7.0 percent.

RECOMMENDATION

While we share many of the concerns expressed to you yesterday by the Advisory Committee, Secretary Marshall, Chairman Campbell and I recommend Option 1 as necessary in today's circumstances. At the same time, we recognize that this decision will do serious damage to the comparability system. We will try to deal with that problem in developing the compensation legislation this Administration plans to forward to the Congress next year.

MILITARY PAY RAISE

The law provides that the military receive an across-the-board increase of the same average percentage as white collar civilians and at the same time. However, the law does give you some discretion in allocating the military increase among basic pay, the quarters allowance, and the subsistence allowance.

The Department of Defense concurs with the above recommended Option 1. In addition, the Secretary of Defense strongly recommends that your decision to limit the pay increase to 5.5 percent be accompanied by a decision not to make a reallocation from basic pay into the allowances. This will make the 5.5 percent cap more equitable for military members. OMB concurs.

DECISIONS

1. The Pay Raise

- ☒ Option 1 - 5.5 percent in October
- ☐ Option 2 - 8.4 percent in February
- ☐ Option 3 - 7.0 percent in December
- ☐ Option 4 - 7.0 percent in December (Advisory Committee)

2. Reallocation of the Military Pay Increase

- ☒ Do not reallocate (Defense recommendation)
- ☐ Reallocate

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Charlie Schultze CLS
Barry Bosworth BB

SUBJECT: Federal Pay Increase

While we recognize the concerns of the Advisory Committee on Federal Pay, we strongly agree with the recommendation of Secretary Marshall, Chairman Campbell, and Jim McIntyre that you propose the 5.5 percent increase for Federal salaries. The alternative options would be viewed as gimmicks to justify abandoning a prior decision. That decision received considerable public support and a modification would strengthen doubts about the Administration's commitment to the anti-inflation effort.

The weakening of the comparability principle was considered at the time of your initial decision in April. The existing structure of the comparability system has come under challenge from other quarters in any case, and is in need of reexamination.

MEMORANDUM FOR:

THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

SUBJECT: McIntyre Memo on Federal Pay Raise

It must be recognized that going with Option 1 -- a 5.5% increase effective beginning with the first pay period after October 1, 1978 -- will leave Federal pay 3% behind private pay, based upon the existing comparability system. Thus, for fiscal year 1980, if comparability is not to be avoided for a second year in a row, there would have to be an increase larger than the 6.5% increase which is now the target for the fiscal year 1980 budget.

Nevertheless, despite the problems this will create with comparability and with the fiscal year 1980 decision, I think Option 1 is the best option in light of the repeated emphasis you and others in the Administration have placed on the 5.5% cap as a symbol of our anti-inflation effort. The other options would make it appear that we had backed away somewhat from that commitment and would make the Administration appear fuzzy and indecisive on this critical issue.

Coretta King and Jesse Hill recently approached me with a request that our Administration express its support for the newly formed International Capital Gifts Campaign to raise funds for the construction of Freedom Hall at the Martin Luther King, Jr. Center for Social Change. The expression of support they requested was that you, I and our wives serve as Honorary Co-Chairpersons and that the first organizing meeting of the campaign be held here in the White House similar to the event held for the United Negro College Fund.

The Campaign Committee's chairman is Henry Ford II of Ford Motor Company, who has already lined up as committee members such persons as Reginald Jones of General Electric, John H. Johnson of Johnson Publications, Doug Fraser of UAW and Tom Murphy of General Motors. (For your information, attached is a suggested invitation list submitted by Ford, King and Hill of people they hope will agree to serve by the time the kick-off is held.)

The project is enthusiastically supported by Ambassador Young, "Daddy" King, the Congressional Black Caucus, Secretary Marshall, members of the international community (especially President Kaunda of Zambia) as well as the corporate and labor leaders mentioned above.

My recommendation is that we agree to host a campaign "kick-off" here at the White House within the next 60 days, but that we decline the invitation to serve as Honorary Co-Chairpersons, consistent with the general policy on such requests. Hosting such an event would provide a fine forum to bring together noted leaders of the corporate, labor and civil rights fields for a strong public statement of our continuing commitment to the principles of racial equality expressed by Dr. King.

MEETING WITH HUMPHREY-HAWKINS BILL SUPPORTERS

Friday, August 18, 1978

11:45 a.m. (15 minutes)

The Cabinet Room

From: Stu Eizenstat

Stu

I. PURPOSE

To reassert support for the Humphrey-Hawkins Full Employment and Balanced Growth Act expected to come to the Senate floor in early September.

II. BACKGROUND PARTICIPANTS AND PRESS PLAN

- A. Background: The top leadership of the labor and civil rights world requested this meeting to reaffirm the Administration's solidarity with them in support of what they regard as critical employment legislation. The civil rights leadership now believes strongly that further progress for Blacks and other minorities depends upon attaining full employment.

The Humphrey-Hawkins bill passed the House in a form acceptable to the Administration in most respects. A number of provisions were added on the House floor that we hope to see dropped in conference. The Senate referred the bill to two committees. The Senate Human Resources Committee version is acceptable, with some modifications we believe attainable on the floor. The Banking Committee version, however, contains a number of absolutely unacceptable provisions as follows:

1. zero inflation as a 1983 goal (the year the bill sets for a 4% unemployment goal)
2. a goal of limiting federal spending to 20% of GNP in 1983

3. a goal of balancing the budget, and maintaining that balance.

With the active help of Senator Byrd, we are developing a coalition in the Senate which will attempt to modify or defeat these Banking Committee provisions. The Administration has consistently opposed all of them as unduly constraining the Executive's ability to make economic policy.

Note that all elements in the coalition, at least at this time, state that if an inflation goal tied to a year is in the law the bill will have been effectively gutted, and they will oppose it on final passage.

It is our judgment that an inflation goal -- perhaps 3 percent, without a year, would be a necessary compromise if we are to have any hope of winning on the Senate floor.

The coalition in support of the Humphrey-Hawkins bill was divided on this issue. The UAW, and a number of other groups, now oppose any compromise on the issue. The AFL-CIO favor attempting to get Senate agreement on an inflation goal without a year. However, the full Coalition last night decided to oppose any numerical inflation goal.

It is our understanding that the meeting will not deal with the specifics of the bill, however. We believe it would be a mistake to get into specific strategies at the Presidential level at this time. Rather this meeting will provide an opportunity for the Coalition to thank you for your leadership in the Humphrey-Hawkins fight. The group does plan to request that you meet briefly with a larger group of supporters who will be coming to Washington in September to lobby Senators for defeat of the inflation provisions of the Banking Committee bill.

Attached you will find a copy of a recent memorandum to you detailing the status of the Humphrey-Hawkins bill.

Stu Eizenstat

Bert Carp, Domestic Policy Staff

Bill Spring, Domestic Policy Staff

- C. Press Plan: Press photo opportunity. (Note: participants in the meeting, with the exception of George Meany, plan to meet with the press after the meeting)

III. TALKING POINTS

1. Welcome the groups and recall how this coalition of religious, civil rights and labor leadership has been responsible for Congressional passage of the landmark civil rights legislation over the 20 years, from the time of the 1957 Civil Rights Act forward. You might single out Clarence Mitchell for special praise at this point.
2. State your agreement with them that employment is the key to further progress in race relations and in economic justice. Note that your Administration has been built around putting the nation back to work after the worse recession since the 1930's. Cite the historic growth in jobs (over 6 million since you came to office), the decline in unemployment and the fact that minority youth employment has increased by 12% even though their rate of unemployment has not declined.
3. State that the Humphrey-Hawkins bill is critically important legislation, not only as a tribute to Senator Humphrey, and as a declaration of policy, but because the advance planning provisions of the bill will help this Administration, and future administrations in developing programs to fight unemployment and achieve balanced growth with price stability.
4. State your commitment to make a major effort to achieve an acceptable bill in the Senate, working with the Senate leadership and with the coalition supporting the legislation.
5. Pledge, in particular, your support for fighting the Banking Committee's provisions that would make zero inflation in 1983 a co-equal goal with 4 percent unemployment.
6. Ask in return for a commitment from the coalition to help the Administration on the Senate floor and in Conference to eliminate other provisions that would make the bill unworkable, such as the Quie 100% of parity amendment and the Jeffords' amendment (to prohibit counting persons employed in our public service employment program as employed in calculating full employment) in the House bill and balanced budget and limitation of federal spending to 20% of GNP in the Senate.

7. You should note that the CETA bill suffered serious amendments on the House floor last week. Ask for their support for the CETA program in the vote in the Senate next week and when it comes back up on the House floor in early September.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Charlie Schultze CLS
Stu Eizenstat Stu

SUBJECT: Humphrey-Hawkins

We need your guidance on the appropriate Administration role during consideration of the Humphrey-Hawkins bill on the Senate floor. Charlie Schultze already has briefed you on a number of our problems with the bill. Supporters of the bill are pressing very hard for strong Administration support of this legislation. Although there are pitfalls to such an approach, we recommend that you and your advisors make a serious effort to achieve passage of the bill this year. Following is a summary of the situation and some recommendations for actions to demonstrate our commitment to the bill.

Political Situation

The parliamentary situation on the Senate floor is complex. Both the Human Resources Committee and the Banking Committee have marked up the bill.

The Senate Human Resources Committee is reporting to the floor a version of the Humphrey-Hawkins bill that is acceptable with one exception. That is a provision calling for a one-house veto resolution whenever the President recommends a change in the 4 percent unemployment goal. An acceptable compromise on this point probably can be worked out before the legislation reaches the floor.

The Senate Banking Committee also has marked up the bill and added amendments that, if approved by the Senate as a whole, would make the bill unacceptable not only to us but to the AFL-CIO and the Civil Rights groups that back the bill. Those amendments are:

1. A goal of zero percent inflation by 1983.
2. A goal of reducing Federal spending to 21 percent of GNP by 1981 and to 20 percent by 1983. This goal cannot be changed except in time of war or recession.

3. A goal for a balanced budget, tied to no specific year, that is coequal with the unemployment goal.

However, defeating the Banking Committee amendments will be extremely difficult. This is particularly true in the case of the zero inflation goal and a likely amendment by Senator Proxmire to raise the goal to 3 percent by 1983. We should have the cooperation of Senator Byrd in devising and working for the adoption of a substitute. The AFL-CIO has threatened to withdraw its support for the bill unless the inflation goal is eliminated or amended so that it is not tied to any one year. Without AFL-CIO support, the bill will die.

The Senate calendar in August and September is very full, and there is some question whether the Humphrey-Hawkins bill can be considered without imperiling consideration this year of other priority Administration proposals. The bill is on the priority list we recently presented to Senator Byrd, and he is expected to be helpful in handling of the bill on the floor. A filibuster is likely. Nonetheless, we believe that the Administration should begin its efforts to support the bill now.

We will consult with Congressional sponsors, and with members of the Full Employment Action Council, on the best strategy to pursue on the Senate floor and in Conference. We intend to make clear from the outset that a quid-pro-quo for our effort is their commitment to work very hard to remove from the bill the objectionable provisions added in the Senate, and such House-passed amendments as the 100 percent of farm parity goal and the amendment that effectively reduces the unemployment goal.

If the Administration does not fight hard to secure passage of a bill that is acceptable to them, backers of the bill will view this as a betrayal and publicly say so. Moreover, should the bill pass, we need their support if amendments objectionable to us are to be eliminated. Therefore, we recommend that you authorize a strong effort to achieve passage of the Humphrey-Hawkins bill in this session. We have discussed this with Ray Marshall and he agrees.

The Full Employment Action Council has requested two activities on your part to demonstrate your support of the bill:

1. They seek a meeting with you shortly to discuss prospects for the bill. At such a meeting, you could (a) restate your commitment to the Humphrey-Hawkins bill, (b) commit your Administration to a full effort to achieve passage, but (c) make it clear that the bill's supporters must commit themselves to eliminating the objectionable House and Senate amendments. We would provide a list of those provisions at the meeting.

2. The Council also seeks a breakfast in the White House with Congressional leaders and sponsors just prior to Senate consideration of the bill. At this meeting you could emphasize again your support for the bill and your deep concern that it be cleansed of objectionable provisions.

We recommend that you approve a meeting in the White House with backers of the bill. We also recommend that you make no decision at this time on the request for a White House breakfast prior to Senate floor action.

MEMORANDUM

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

August 17, 1978

TO: The President

FROM: Patricia Burio

RE: 30-minute interview with the Executive Council of the International Labor Press Association, 1:30 p.m. Friday, August 18.

PURPOSE: To answer questions for the editors' Labor Day issues.

BACKGROUND: ILPA represents 600 labor publications in the U.S. and Canada affiliated with the AFL-CIO and the Canadian Labour Congress. The 19 members of the Executive Council include nine editors of national publications. One is Canadian. Names of the Council members are attached.

ISSUES THAT MAY BE RAISED: In addition to questions on employment and inflation, you can anticipate questions on:

- National health insurance
- Veto for public works bill? You may want to mention that while water projects use 40 to 50 workers per $1 million spent, manpower programs such as CETA use about 130 workers per $1 million.
- OMB's efforts to water down OSHA safety standards because of inflationary impact
- Middle East. Most of group has been there
- Midge Costanza. When will there be a spokesperson for women and liberal causes?
- White House and labor negotiations. In negotiations now are rail unions, oil workers and retail clerks
- Marshall's role in the anti-inflation effort vis-a-vis labor.

-Chile. AFL-CIO is concerned about repression of trade unions in Chile. AFL-CIO has asked President Pinochet for relief. In letter to you on August 10, George Meany says he is ready to join unions in Latin America and the Caribbean "in mounting an effective international action". Z'big acknowledged the letter.

-Modifying Davis-Bacon. They fear a new way will be adopted for figuring the "prevailing wage" so wages will be lower. You could say there has been some talk of reviewing this Act at lower levels. But no recommendations have come to you, or, you believe to Secretary Marshall.

PRESS COVERAGE: Participants will use the interview in their Labor Day issues and the transcript will be released to the White House press corps for use on Labor Day itself.

A White House photographer will take group shots during the meeting and individual photos with you at conclusion. There will be a photo opportunity for the White House press corps the first 90 seconds of the meeting.

SUBJECT: D.C. Voting Representation Amendment

At your meeting this morning with the Humphrey-Hawkins supporters, I recommend that you indicate your strong support for the D.C. voting representation amendment. The amendment has probably become the major black legislative concern for this Congress, in some respects surpassing even Humphrey-Hawkins.

Since you will not have an opportunity to make a statement on the amendment before your vacation, I think you should use the occasion of this meeting with black leaders to make your support clear. They will no doubt reflect that support in their press conference.

The Senate will vote on the amendment on Tuesday; because the opponents apparently believe they have the required 34 votes to block the amendment, they have agreed to eliminate a cloture vote. At this point, it is very close -- both sides are predicting victory.

SUBJECT: Proposed 1978 Supplemental Appropriations and a 1979 Budget Amendment

Attached for your approval is a consolidated package containing requests for fiscal year 1978 supplemental appropriations totalling $3.3 million and an amendment to your 1979 appropriations requests in the amount of $1.3 million. An explanation of each item is included in the fact sheets attached to this memorandum. This package includes:

- ° requests for the legislative branch totalling $270 thousand. These requests are, by law, transmitted without change.
- ° $3.1 million in fiscal year 1978 for the Department of Justice to make court ordered overtime payments to U.S. attorneys and marshals.
- ° $1.3 million in fiscal year 1979 for the operating expenses of the recently established Presidential Commission on World Hunger.

In our opinion these proposals are consistent with Administration objectives and an orderly government process. Each of these items has been rigorously reviewed by our staff and found to be necessary at this time.

RECOMMENDATION

That you sign the letter transmitting these requests to the Congress. Transmittal at this time is recommended in order to allow for proper consideration by the Senate Appropriations Committee during its markups of the affected appropriation bills.

Mr. President:

What follows is an outline of press arrangements for your vacation:

1. PLAINS

The press corps, as usual, will be housed in Americus.

We hope to deal with events in the same manner in which we have on your visits there in the past year -- a prior notification by you on departures from the residence so that a tight pool accompanies your motorcade. This should all be no more or no less of a problem than it usually is.

2. IDAHO

The press corps will be housed in Boise, which is approximately 100 miles away from the raft trip starting point and approximately 175 miles away from trip's end.

The three networks, and to a lesser degree the wire services, were making very intricate plans -- including the use of helicopters, horses and their own rafts -- to get into the Salmon River area to cover your raft trip with a number of surprise photos which would have seriously impeded your vacation.

In order to get away from that, we have made an agreement with the nets and wires to have a small press pool float down the river several miles behind you. This will have them out of sight and, we hope, out of mind. I will be with the pool, and there will be contact between myself and your party, with arrangements for brief photos. You and Mrs. Carter will of course know ahead of time when a photo is scheduled to take place.

This arrangement by no means insures that there will not be attempts by western local stations, newspapers or photo freelancers to get photos of you on the river, but it does get the organizations with the most resources and know-how away from that approach. Phil and his office, working with the National Park Service and the Secret Service, are taking steps to make it as hard as possible for others to surprise the two of you with photos.

As I mentioned to you earlier today, the plans for the three days would go roughly as follows:

1. First day -- Pool coverage as you board your raft at Indian Creek. Shortly after starting, your raft floats beneath a footbridge. A second pool is pre-positioned on the footbridge, to get a shot of you actually on the river. This is all over within 30 minutes of starting.
2. Second day -- The pool leaves its campsite early, floats past your campsite for photo, pre-positions along the rapids for photos as you float by. This is all over by 10 am, Idaho time.
3. Third day -- The pool passes your raft so that they get to the end first. They cover the debarkation, and helicopter takeoff.

3. WYOMING

The press corps will be housed in Jackson, approximately 35 miles away from your lodge.

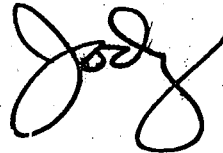

Phil has described to you the amount of privacy you will enjoy at your lodge.

We are planning to have a tight pool, in two shifts a day, up in the general vicinity of your compound there, so that we can respond on short notice to sidetrips you may make. We have told the press that we'll do as well by them as we reasonably can, but that this is a vacation, and there will be a number of times that you'll want the most privacy possible.

We will still have the problem that, when you're out in public places, there is no legal means by which we can rule that no press will be there. We don't yet know what sidetrips you will take away from your lodge, but the general approach we will try to take is to have at least a tight pool in the motorcade with you for travel of any distance on public roads.

Coverage at a given sidetrip will have to be tailored to the setting. If, for instance, you and Mrs. Carter go hiking, perhaps there could be photos of the two of you heading off into the woods, and we'd hold the press back after that. Or if it's directly from the lodge, and you don't want coverage, no coverage. But for something as public as, say, the geysers at Yellowstone -- where as a matter of course hundreds or thousands of members of the public are already there regardless of your presence -- a visit would seem to require fuller coverage.

We have kept in mind throughout that this is all vacation, and that there is a strong need to maximize your privacy and that of Mrs. Carter.

MEMORANDUM

TO: The Speaker

FROM: John Brademas

RE: Defense Authorization Bill

- Conference report is $100 million under President's revised request (revised to include +$1.6 billion for a conventionally powered carrier).
- Bill passed House 319-67 on May 24, 1978 (D's 186-64; R's 133-3). House earlier defeated amendment to delete nuclear carrier and add conventional carrier 139-264 (D's 128-135; R's 11-129). So half the Democrats who voted against the nuclear carrier went over to support the bill on passage.
- Conference report passed House by voice, August 4.
- Note same pattern on Defense Appropriations Bill. Bill passed August 9 by 339-68 (D's 208-56; R's 131-4). Amendment to strike funds for nuclear carrier failed 156-218 (D's 133-114; R's 23-104). Again, fully half the Democrats against the nuclear carrier came around to support the bill.

THEREFORE: To safely sustain a veto (need 144 votes), you will have to have all of the Democrats who were against the carrier voting to sustain (even though half of them went over to support the bill on passage), and even then it would be a near thing, depending on absentees, etc.

Dear Mr. President:

It has become obvious that there is no possibility that the Senate will pass any basic labor law reform this session. I consider that to be a great mistake not only because the House passed a fair and modest piece of legislation but it is proof that because of the revival of the filibuster, no controversial legislation may be passed by a majority of the Congress. Apparently, now there must be 60 votes to pass such legislation.

I would be remiss, however, if I did not convey to you my personal and sincere thanks, and those of the UAW, for the great effort you made on this lost cause. No one can fault you, Secretary Marshall or your staff for failure of will. We just couldn't make it.

FROM: Alan K. Campbell

scat

SUBJECT: Labor Relations Section of Civil Service Reform Act

As you know, Bill Clay has made it a condition that we reach agreement with him on the labor relations title of the Civil Service Reform Act before he will stop his delaying tactics on the floor of the House. I participated in a four-hour negotiating session yesterday with him, Congressmen Ford and Udall. His demands for what should be included in that title are completely unacceptable and, although we were able to compromise on some of the issues, the problem remains unresolved.

The compromises which we accepted had been worked out with the American Federation of Government Employees and the AFL-CIO. Udall accepted most of these agreements and incorporated them into what would be proposed on the floor as a Udall substitute amendment which the Administration would not oppose. Clay did not find certain provisions of this amendment acceptable. During the course of the meeting, Ford gradually moved from being supportive of Clay to being supportive of Udall and me.

I met with Udall this morning and told him that some of the matters on which Clay was insistent were so inconsistent with the basic purposes of civil service reform that they would make the bill unacceptable to us. I also pointed out to him that, since we have the Reorganization Plan approved with a strong Office of Personnel Management, many of the management-oriented provisions in the reform act could be accomplished by regulation and executive order. Therefore, if the bill were not passed, the primary losses would be in the areas of employee protections and labor relations. An analysis is now being prepared which will spell out in some detail these consequences of non-passage.

I met this afternoon with Tom Donahue of the AFL-CIO to point out to him the consequences to Federal sector labor relations if civil service reform does not pass. He expressed concern and will discuss the situation with Udall.

I don't believe we should go any further at this time to stress the unacceptability of the legislation if it contains inappropriate labor relations provisions, but I believe we should prepare ourselves to do so should Clay remain adamant in his delaying tactics. I believe there is now enough Congressional support for civil service reform that a credible threat by the Administration to withdraw the legislation will force Clay to back away.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Charlie Schultze ^{CLS}

Subject: Revised GNP Estimate for the Second Quarter and Personal Income

The Commerce Department released this morning its estimate of personal income in July. Tomorrow morning (Friday, August 18) at 10:30 a. m., new estimates of GNP in the second quarter will be published.

Second Quarter GNP

Real GNP growth in the second quarter has been revised up -- to an annual rate of 8.0 percent, from the preliminary estimate of 7.4 percent. This is a comparatively small revision, but it is in the desired direction. Moreover, the details of the revision were heartening. Estimates of business fixed investment, net exports, and personal consumption were all revised up; the estimated rate of inventory investment was revised down. The balance between stocks and sales at the close of the quarter was thus better than indicated in earlier data.

Unfortunately, the estimated increase in average prices, as measured by the GNP deflator, was also revised up -- from 10.0 to 10.7 percent, at an annual rate. Since real GNP and prices were both increased, the revision in current dollar GNP was fairly large. The counterpart in terms of income was an upward revision of corporate profits. Over the past year, corporate profits have risen by 11 percent -- a very healthy increase for a period of weak productivity gains.

Personal Income in July

The personal income figures for July released this morning show a rise of 1.4 percent -- a substantial increase. However, there were three special factors that exaggerated the rise in personal incomes:

- o The usual July adjustment of social security benefit payments for increases in the cost of living occurred.
- o COLA clauses in labor contracts tend to result in larger wage increases in the beginning month of each quarter.
- o Proposition 13 went into effect on July 1. The Commerce Department assumed that the reduction in property taxes for noncorporate businesses and landlords did not result in corresponding reductions in prices and rents, so that incomes of these groups increased.

Apart from these special factors personal income growth in July would have been about the same as in May and June -- that is, about 0.8 percent.
